

Maulana Saiyed Rabe Hasani Nadwi

Maulana Saiyed Rabe Hasani Nadwi opened his eyes on 1st October 1929 at Takya Kalaa, Raye Bareli, UP, he is nephew of Maulana Saiyed Abul Hasan Ali Hasani Nadwi (Rh).

Nadwi gained primary education from his family Maktab at Raye Bareli and joined Darul Uloom Nadwatul Ulama for higher studies and graduated in 1948, for further studies he made journey to Darul Uloom Deoband and spent only one year there.

Nadwi was appointed as Assistant Professor at Nadwatul Ulama, Lucknow in 1952, head of its Arabic Department in 1955, and the Dean of Faculty of Arabic Language in 1970. He became Principle of Nadwatul Ulama in 1993, Deputy-rector in 2000 and Rector after the death of Abul Hasan Ali Nadwi in 2000. He also succeeded a great scholar Mujahidul Islam Qasmi as the President of All India Muslim Personal Law Board in 2002.

Besides a large number of his articles, literatures and drafts, so far 15 valuable books in Arabic and 12 in Urdu have been published.

He made several academic journeys to abroad in the company of Maulana Syed Abul Hasan Ali Hasani Nadwi (Rh) and even after his demise; he attended and addressed a lot of symposiums, seminars and meetings. His favorite topic is Islamic Literary Works. He is the Vice President of the Aalimi Rabita Adab-e-Islami, Riyadh (K.S.A.), and a founding member of Muslim World League Makkah.

He is also president of Majlis-e-Tahqiqat-o-Nashriyat-e-Islam, Lucknow, Deni Talimi Council Up, and Dare Arafat Rae Bareli, and member of “Darul Musannefeen, Azamgarh, Trusty of Oxford Centre for Islamic Studies of Oxford University, and also patron of Tahreek Payam-e-Insaniyet and Islamic Fiqh Academy, India.

